
Why Buy CANWriteTM

Efficiently write accurate, understandable MSDSs.

MSDSs are important documents. They are legally required in most jurisdictions including Canada and the United States. MSDSs are critical to product stewardship – providing essential information to your customers about the potential hazards and safe work practices for your products. An accurate, understandable MSDS can help save lives, and reduce injuries and property damage.

CANWrite features that facilitate efficient authoring of accurate and complete MSDSs include:

- the CCOHS authoring order
- built-in assisted logic
- templates, and
- seamless access to critical resources, including CHEMINFO, HSDB, RTECS®, Canadian enviroOSH Legislation and a regulatory database, at any time during the authoring process

The CANWrite standard phrase library follows clear language principles to help ensure that the information on your MSDSs is understandable to a broad audience.

Efficiently maintain MSDSs in CANWrite.

MSDSs authored in CANWrite can be readily updated. Quickly find MSDSs due for updating or identify MSDSs containing specific ingredients that require modification. By updating the exposure guidelines in your Ingredient Sheets, the exposure guidelines in all MSDSs or Templates linked to the Ingredient Sheets will be automatically updated.

All CANWrite subscribers have complimentary access to CCOHS' Chemical Notification Service. This on-line service provides updates of new and/or changed content to specific databases accessible via the CANWrite Resources window. This feature allows you to easily keep up-to-date on the latest information on your products' ingredients.

Ensure compliance with American and Canadian requirements.

CANWrite provides a WHMIS classification worksheet as well as an OSHA hazard determination worksheet. These worksheets help ensure accurate hazard assessment, which is critical to writing accurate MSDSs. The CANWrite WHMIS Audit tool verifies that all WHMIS-required information is present on your MSDS.

CANWrite allows for protection of trade secrets in a manner fully compliant with Canadian and US law.

Customize your MSDSs

Add logos and company-specific information, customize field headings and add custom phrases to suit your needs.

CANWrite is cost-effective.

CANWrite's inclusive package will save you thousands of dollars compared to the more commonly used word processing software. CANWrite offers many key features that are typically only found in much higher priced software. One such feature is that CANWrite's standardized clear language phrases are generated in English, French, Latin-American Spanish and Brazilian Portuguese – saving you significant MSDS translation costs.

Access unparalleled client support.

A team of CCOHS specialists in chemistry, toxicology, industrial hygiene, information science and computer systems are on hand to provide advice and technical assistance to help you get the most out of CANWrite.

CCOHS' Goal: Meet user needs!

The CANWrite team is responsive to client ideas and requests.
